

Date: May 3, 2026, 8:30AM and 10:30AM

Sermon: “Mother’s God - and Mine!”

A Pre-Mother’s Day Study in Psalm 22

Woven into this classic Old Testament composition is the Psalmist’s testimony about his spiritual orientation on life and resulting interaction with God. These are the foundational religious realities of his life, and for them he owes a debt of gratitude to his godly mother above all.

I. David’s Basic O_____ on Life: “From my mother’s womb you have been my God”
– vv. 9-10

II. David’s Ardent I_____ with God

Two things about the Psalmist’s God stand out:

A. He is a God who _____ –
“O my Strength, come quickly to help me” – vv. 19-21

B. He is a God who _____
“He [the Lord] has not hidden his face from him [the afflicted one] but has listened to his cry for help”
– vv. 22-24

Date: May 3, 2026, 8:30 AM and 10:30 AM

Sermon: “Mother’s God - and Mine!”

A Pre-Mother’s Day Study in Psalm 22

Woven into this classic Old Testament composition is the Psalmist’s testimony about his spiritual orientation on life and resulting interaction with God. These are the foundational religious realities of his life, and for them he owes a debt of gratitude to his godly mother above all.

I. David’s Basic Orientation on Life – “From my mother’s womb you have been my God” – vv. 9-10

II. David’s Ardent Interaction with God

Two things about the Psalmist’s God stand out:

A. He is a God who Helps

“O my Strength, come quickly to help me” – vv. 19-21

B. He is a God who Hears

“He [the Lord] has not hidden his face from him [the afflicted one] but has listened to his cry for help”

– vv. 22-24